VERTIGO NOVA - A STAR IS BORN

A NOVA
is a star that continues to shine brighter and brighter over time.

INSPIRATION

A NEW STAR IS BORN

Petite Friture and Constance Guisset, an inseparable duo with great ambitions, have started a new chapter in their story with "Vertigo Nova", a highly technical collection that doesn't compromise on the design's iconic poetic elegance.

The latest creation is fitted with LED technology mounted in a sphere of blown glass that gives off a soft, dimmable light to suit the mood.

Be it as a floor lamp, suspension light, or wall mount, Vertigo Nova quivers as the geometric curve of the hand-mounted fiberglass hoop reacts to the lightest of breezes. The sculptural form and movement of the light draws in the keen appreciative eye.

A unique piece – an invitation to reverie.

Amélie du Passage, true to her visionary optimism, has once again found the new upcoming design icon.

A STAR IS BORN

"Vertigo Nova is born from the desire to work and shape light as an object, to soften and mould it.

Here, the technical prowess lies in the mysterious sand-blasted glass.

The purely functional is transformed into something beautiful where only that which is essential remains: a light and delicate veil floating between two worlds".

Constance Guisset.

Her work is marked by a search for balance between ergonomics, delicacy and imagination. Her objects are as many attempts to explore the incarnation of the movement by lightness or surprise, while defending a requirement of comfort and hospitality for the body.
- After studying at ESSEC business School and Sciences-Po Paris, then a one-year internship at Japan Parliament in Tokyo, Constance Guisset chose to turn towards design and enters ENSCI design school from which she graduates in 2007.
- In 2008, she won the « Grand Prix du Design » from the City of Paris, the « Public Award » at the Villa Noailles Design Parade and two grants at the VIA Projects. In 2010, she became the Designer of the Year at the Maison& Objets fair and got the Audi Talents Award.
- Since 2009, Constance Guisset has been creating sceneries for artistic show, exhibitions settings, and also has been dedicating herself to interior design. The Musée des Arts Décoratifs of Paris held a solo exhibition showcasing her works from November 2017 to March 2018.
